

Day after day, week after week, our supporters have asked a simple question to our city's very well-paid leaders: What is the plan to deter and, if necessary, respond to election-related unrest? With just over a week to go before the election, through the amazing efforts of our passionate supporters, we were able to get the city to release such a plan. The City of Dallas has committed to increased police staffing and deployment, activation of the Emergency Operation Center, and keeping rapid response units available to address problems at a moment's notice. Thanks to the efforts of our supporters, millions of Dallas residents will be much safer in these next few weeks. But our work is far from over. Convicted child abuser Dominique Alexander continues to lead roving mobs harassing people and businesses downtown and we will continue to push the Dallas Police to put a stop to these illegal activities. Our city is choosing a new police chief and we must make sure the process is fair and that criminals like Dominique Alexander do not have a hand in their selection (as they did in the case of choosing Chief Hall). City Council members have made crippling cuts to the Dallas Police overtime budget and it is critical that full funding be restored. We want a City Council and City Manager who take their responsibility to Keep Dallas Safe seriously. Together, we can and will make Dallas the best place in America to raise a family and start a business.
