AUSTIN, TX, March 21, 2022—Following a successful first term in office, Texas GOP Chairman Matt Rinaldi announced his campaign for re-election with the support of more than two-thirds of the State Republican Executive Committee. The election will be held at the Republican Party of Texas State Convention in June.

Rinaldi issued the following statement:

"I'm proud of the work we have done over the last eight months building momentum for the 2022 election and growing our party around a platform of border security, fiscal responsibility, healthcare freedom, law and order, and parental rights. I look forward to continuing that work in my next term. Republicans I talk to are excited, energized, and eager to defeat liberal Democrats in November and secure more conservative victories in the next legislative session."

Rinaldi further added.

"I am humbled to have the support of over two-thirds of the State Republican Executive Committee in my campaign to serve the party as chairman for another term. I will continue to work with them to make our state and our party even stronger."
