AUSTIN - Today, State Representative Dustin Burrows (R-Lubbock) announced that he has secured the support of a majority of members of the Texas House of Representatives to be the Speaker of the House in the 89th Legislative Session, which convenes in Austin on January 14, 2024. Representative Burrows released the following statement:

“I am deeply honored to have received the written support of a majority of the members of the Texas House of Representatives in the race for Speaker. With the Speaker’s race now behind us, it is time for the House to come together and focus on delivering results for the people of Texas. I deeply respect the institution of the House and the responsibility entrusted to its members, and as Speaker, I am committed to upholding the values and integrity of Texas.

To my colleagues in the House, I share your desire to deliver meaningful results for Texans. I am committed to working with each and every one of you, regardless of who you supported in the Speaker’s race. Together, we have a unique opportunity to build on our state’s past successes to ensure that Texas remains the land of freedom and opportunity for generations to come.

During my time in the House, I have worked closely with both Governor Greg Abbott and Lieutenant Governor Dan Patrick. I look forward to doing great things for the people of Texas with them and our House and Senate colleagues.
