DISTRICT STATEMENT REGARDING FORMER HIGH SCHOOL COACH

Edinburg, TX – Christian Roxburgh, a former Edinburg CISD employee turned himself into Edinburg CISD Police custody today on allegations involving an Inappropriate Relationship Between an Educator and a Student, Texas Penal Code 21.12, 2nd Degree Felony.

Roxburgh was arraigned this afternoon by Justice of the Peace Precinct 4 Judge Andre Maldonado.

Upon learning of the allegations, Edinburg CISD immediately took action consistent with district policy and state law.

Because this matter involves a former student and is an active investigation, the district is limited in what information it can release. To protect student privacy and comply with federal law the district will not provide any information that could identify the student.

We recognize that this news may be concerning to students, families, staff and community members. Counseling and support resources will be made available as needed.
