Hi Robert,

You're welcome to attribute the statement below as a joint response from both Oncor and LCRA TSC.

- Andrew

With the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) confirming today that our application to construct the Bell County East Switch to Big Hill Substation 765kV Transmission Line Project includes sufficient routing options for consideration, Oncor and LCRA TSC will work expeditiously to keep this project moving forward. This critical project will support Texas' long-term electric reliability needs, and the PUCT's decision allows the project to continue under its existing procedural schedule. These transmission lines are urgently needed to ensure reliable electric service to West Texas, as ERCOT has repeatedly identified in its analyses over the past several years and as established by the overwhelming weight of the record evidence developed in this proceeding. Oncor and LCRA TSC will continue working through the established PUCT processes and will remain engaged with landowners, communities, and other stakeholders as the project moves forward.
